Life Long Learning is the key to success!!

Continuing Education, is it right for you?

“I wish I understood that better.”

“I wish my salary was higher.”

“I wish I had that job.”

If any of the above statements sounds like you, then continuing education is right for you. In fact, anyone seeking to improve, then continuing education is right for you. No matter what path you've chosen in life, it is never too late to learn new things.

In today's modern world people in their 40's through 80's are seeking college degrees and continuing education. In addition, research has shown that an active mind can prolong life.

So decide what you want and have the courage to take it one step at a time!

Study Tips

- Take notes
- Read assigned chapters
- Highlight the main points when reading
- Tape record information and replay it to help you memorize the material
- Study with a partner
- Create sentences, jingles etc. that will help you memorize the material
- Do computer tutorials
- Take practice tests

“Anything worth while is worth doing right!”

Taking notes is an excellent study tip.

Choosing the Career Track

1. Decide what you want
2. Set a goal
3. Enroll in a college or technical school
4. Set up a meeting with a school counselor and/or visit the career information center
5. Get the proper tools (Books, equipment etc.)
6. Ask questions
7. Seek a study partner or tutor (Most colleges provide free tutorial services)
8. Practice: Do all assigned work and any extras that will help you understand the material better
